Numb. 1104.

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, October 27. 1705.

From the Paris Gazette, dated October 24.

Rome, September 29.

THE 23d of this Month we had an Account by the Letters from Germany that came in that Day, that the Emperor had receiv'd the Letter which the Pope wrote to him concerning the Order given the Nuncio to depart the Imperial Court: That thereupon Seignior Delphino Ambaſſador of Venice was commiſſion'd to ſignify to the Nuncio, that his Imperial Majeſty left it to his Choice whether to continue at Neuſtad or return to Rome. The Ambaſſador went on purpoſe to Neeſtad to acquaint the Nuncio with his Imperial Majeſty's Pleaſure, and gave him Hopes that by the good Offices of the Empreſs Dowarger, Cardinal Lamberg and ſome others, he would ſoon have Leave given him to return to Vienna. The 24th the Pillar call'd the Columna Antonina, found in the Garden of the Prieſts of the Miſſion, was removed from thence near to the Place where 'tis deſign'd to be ſet up. The Work was directed by the Chevalier Fontana the younger. The ſame Day a Congregation of State was held, in which ſeveral Letters from Vienna were read, particularly one from Cardinal Lamberg, in which he gave the Pope an Account in what manner the Emperor receiv'd his Letter, which was ſuch as gave Hopes the Differences between the 2 Courts might be accomodated Amicably. Hereupon it was reſolv'd that new Inſtances ſhould be made to the Emderor, for Leave for the Nuncio to return to Vienna, and that in the mean time the Nuncio ſhould be order'd to continue at Neuſtad, and not go from thence without Order. His Holineſs has written agen to King Auguſtus of Poland, to deſire him to ſet at Liberty the Princes James and Conſtantine Sobieski, which he had put him in Hopes he would do long ſince.

From the Paris Gazette, dated October 24.

Madrid, October 9. The Marquis de Bay having Intelligence, that the Portugueſe were laying up great Stores of Proviſions and Forrage on the Frontier, march'd out of Badajox the 25th of laſt Month with 2500 Horſe and 4000 Foot. He burnt ſeveral Magazines of Straw, and above 100000 Meaſures of Corn that had been provided for ſubſiſting the Enemy's Horſe. After which he met between Eſtremos and Elvas one of the Enemy's Convoys, being 80 Mules laden with Proviſions, 300 Oxon deſign'd for drawing their Artillery, 100 Cows, and 5000 Sheep, which he took and carry'd off ſafe to Badajox, no Troops coming from Eſtremos or Elvas to hinder him. The Caſtillian Army is encamp'd in the Neighbourhood of Badajox, in number 15000 Men good Troops, and the Horſe are in a very good Condition.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated October 29.

From the Camp at Hermita de Aldea del Conde, 4 Miles from Badajox, October 5. The Marſhal de Theſſe apprehending the Incurſion made by the Marquis de Bay on the Frontier might oblige the Enemy to put themſelves in Motion, broke up the 2d. Inſtant from Cazeres where he had his Head Quarters, and the ſame Day march'd to Merida where were 7 French Battallions: The ſame Evening we had Intelligence that the Enemy had paſs'd the Guadiana above Badajox; whereupon the ſaid 7 Battallions were order'd to march, and the 3d. they advanc'd to Lobon, whither the Marſhal de Theſſe arriving ſome Hours after with the reſt of his Forces, found the Enemy had ſat down before Badajox; that they were encamp'd among the Olive Gardens and Vineyards on this ſide of that Town, and that their Army conſiſted of 25000 Men, Monſieur Geoffreville who commands a Body of Horſe in Caſtile, is on the March with 10 Squadrons of Horſe to joyn us, and then our Army will conſiſt of 31 Spaniſh and 16 French Squadrons, and 14 Battallions. The Marquis de Bay was in Badajox when the Enemy came before it, but immediately march'd out with 6 Squadrons, leaving but 100 Horſe in it. The Beſiegers have already planted ſome Cannon againſt the Place, and Yeſterday in the Evening we heard them begin to fire, which they continued to do all Night long. The whole Garriſon in the Place conſiſts of about 4000 Men moſt of them new rais'd Recruits. 'Tis believ'd that to morrow the Marſhal de Theſſe will advance with the Army to Salavira, within 2 Miles of the Enemy; there paſs the Guadiana, which is fordable in ſeveral Places, and encamp on the other ſide of Badajox, which is of too great Circumference to be inveſted by the Enemy on that ſide: If this Deſign ſucceed, we ſhall have Opportunity to refreſh the Garriſon from time to time; but the Difficulty will be how we ſhall be ſupplied with Proviſions and Forrage.
